Simple Document Management
Right from your Scanner

What if you could immediately secure and manage any document the moment it is scanned? Epson scanners now offer the ability to directly upload your records into PaperVision® Enterprise, PaperVision®.com, or ImageSilo® at the touch of a button, giving you secure, instant access to collaboration, cyber security, and automation.

Improve Collaboration

- Out-of-the-box integration between Epson scanners using Document Capture Pro (including the DS-870 and DS-970) and Digitech Systems software and services enables access to version control, annotations, secure distribution and other collaboration features immediately

- One button scan and quick upload to network or cloud-based storage makes it easy to securely share information with colleagues

Enhance the Security of Sensitive Data

- Information security improves the moment documents are scanned

- Software and services offer simple disaster recovery and data security options that don't require extensive setup or cost

- Specialty security settings can be applied based on the group, user, project, or even the document itself, enhancing your ability to comply with regulations and to keep data private

Enable Process Automation

- Digital documents enable automation of core business processes such as accounts payable, accounts receivable, and human resources

- Information can be securely routed automatically through process steps, speeding the pace of routine business tasks

- Robotic Process Automation (RPA), Artificial Intelligence (AI), and other features allow the software and services to perform tasks previously done by humans, reducing your overall costs

Businesses today need to solve complex information problems, such as securing critical data currently trapped on paper documents, and enabling process automation through digitization. Partner the Epson DS-870 or Epson DS-970 with Digitech Systems' on-premise or cloud-based Enterprise Content Management (ECM), and you'll exceed your vision while gaining secure access to any document, anywhere, anytime.
